History

The Charlotte Community Band is celebrating its tenth anniversary season in 2022-23. Over the past decade, the Charlotte Community Band performed regularly in Charlotte and throughout Mid-Michigan. Highlights include joint performances with the Grand Ledge Community Band, DeWitt Community Concert Band, Cereal City Band, and bands from Albion and Olivet colleges. The band has performed an annual Christmas collage concert and a concert in conjunction with the June "Charlotte Celebrates" festival, now in their fifth and seventh year respectively. Additionally, ensembles associated with the CCB can be found marching in parades, and playing at local events. This includes the Charlotte Community Jazz Ensemble, which is now in its second full year of performances.

This marks the Charlotte Community Band's fourth Red Cedar Festival performance. The band is very excited to again participate in this wonderful event and would like to thank all of the supporters and organizers for making this festival possible, especially after the disruptions of the past few years.
